East Coast Port Disruption #1 Proactive Preparations

Dear Valued Customers,

We would like to inform you of the proactive measures Ocean Network Express (ONE) has implemented to mitigate any potential impact to your cargo in light of the anticipated disruption to East and Gulf Coasts services starting Tuesday, October 1, 2024, due to a potential strike action (port disruption).

NA Exports via U.S. East Coast and Gulf Coast:

If the strike occurs, all U.S. East Coast and Gulf Coast export bookings for sailings on or after September 30 will be impacted. Booking adjustments including rolls to other vessels or cancellations may be needed, beginning with vessels during the week of September 22, 2024.

- New Export Bookings:
    - ONE will continue to accept Coastal bookings for Dry cargo.
    - Acceptance of new refrigerated bookings from coastal locations are paused for vessels departing on or after October 1, 2024.
    - ONE will continue to accept rail cargo until further notice, exception: inland dangerous goods and refrigerated bookings will not be accepted for vessels departing on or after October 1, 2024.
  - Demurrage:
    - Coastal locations: ONE will follow terminal policy.
    - Inland locations: ONE does not charge demurrage at rail locations.
  - Detention:
    - Coastal locations: ONE will stop the clock should a port disruption occur.
    - Inland locations: ONE will charge detention as per standard process until further notice.

NA Imports via U.S. East Coast and Gulf Coasts:

ONE encourages customers to pick up their import cargo prior to September 30, 2024. Ports are advising reefers may or will not be monitored while ports are closed during the port disruption. (Please refer to the appendix for weekend gate availability information.)

    - On the FLX service: All cargo from Latin America will be declined for vessels Martinique 0006N and Cape Hellas 0002N.
